FUNDING TO INTER-ARTS PROGRAMS, 2000-2001

- In 2000-2001, the Canada Council for the Arts provided grants worth $1,399,000 to interdisciplinary arts in Canada.
- The Council awarded $525,500 in grants to individual interdisciplinary artists and $873,500 to Inter-Arts organizations (see Table 1). Creation grants to 45 individual artists totaled $489,500, while an additional $208,000 in creation grants was awarded to 11 Inter-arts organizations. The Dissemination grants program accounted for the second largest amount of funding, totaling $403,500.
- Prior to 1999, funding to interdisciplinary arts was integrated into the media arts program. Consequently, funding to Inter-Arts is a relatively small portion of Council funding (1.33%). However, the Inter-Arts budget has increased by over $400,000 since 1999-2000.
- Funding to Inter-Arts organizations and artists is dispersed across the country in 38 different cities and communities (see Table 2). The rapid growth of interdisciplinary practices in Canada's artistic communities is reflected in the creation of the new Inter-Arts office at the Council, which supports multiple, hybrid and experimental approaches to performance art and interdisciplinary work. While interdisciplinary art and new artistic practices are emerging rapidly at a national level, the three largest centres of Inter-Arts funding remain Montreal ($411,400), Vancouver ($213,600) and Toronto ($157,500).

FINANCEMENT AUX PROGRAMMES INTER-ARTS, 2000-2001

- En 2000-2001, le Conseil des Arts du Canada a attribué 1 399 000 $ de subventions aux arts interdisciplinaires au Canada.
- Le Conseil des Arts a accordé 525 500 $ de subventions aux artistes des arts interdisciplinaires, et 873 500 $ aux organismes œuvrant dans ce secteur (voir le tableau n° 1). Des subventions de création d'une valeur totale de 489 500 $ ont été versées à 45 artistes, et des subventions additionnelles de création atteignant 208 000 $ ont été accordées à 11 organismes du secteur inter-arts. Le deuxième montant en importance, soit 403 000 $, est attribué dans le cadre du programme de Subventions de diffusion.
- Avant 1999, le financement des arts interdisciplinaires était intégré au programme d'arts médiatiques. Par conséquent, le financement au secteur inter-arts représente une tranche bien modeste du financement total accordé par le Conseil des Arts du Canada (1,33 %). Cependant, le budget au secteur inter-arts a augmenté de plus de 400 000 $ depuis 1999-2000.
- Le financement est versé aux artistes et aux organismes du secteur inter-arts dans 38 villes et agglomérations partout au pays (voir le tableau n° 2). La croissance rapide des pratiques interdisciplinaires dans les communautés artistiques au Canada est reflété dans la création d'un nouveau Bureau Inter-arts au Conseil des Arts, bureau qui appuie des approches multiples, hybrides et expérimentales aux œuvres interdisciplinaires et de performance. Bien que l'art interdisciplinaire et les nouvelles pratiques artistiques apparaissent rapidement au niveau national, les trois grands centres de financement inter-arts demeurent inchangés : Montréal (411 400 $), Vancouver (213 600 $) et Toronto (157 500 $).
