

FUNDING TO VISUAL ARTS, 1999-2000

- In 1999-2000, the Canada Council for the Arts provided grants worth $15 million to visual arts in Canada.
- The Council awarded $4.9 million in grants to individual visual artists and $10.2 million to visual arts organizations. Programming and operation grants to 81 museums and public galleries totaled $5.9 million, while operational funding to 81 artist-run centres totaled $2.1 million.
- In all, the Canada Council supported 310 visual arts organizations in 1999-2000, including art museums and public galleries, artist-run centres, collectives and associations, and university galleries and visual arts programs.
- The Council maintained its level of support to professional visual artists in 1999-2000, awarding grants to 619 individuals (632 grants to individuals were awarded in 1998-99). The success rate for individual visual artist grant applicants was 28% in 1999-2000, an identical reflection of the average success rate of 28% within the five Council disciplines featuring substantial programs of funding to individuals: inter-arts, media arts, music, visual arts and writing and publishing¹.
- According to a recent study completed for the Council², success rates for individual artist grant applicants increased in 1998-99 for the first time in many years with new funding to the Canada Council. While the overall success rate for individual applicants stood at 20% in 1992-93, the rate had increased to 27% by 1998-99, and stands at 34% for 1999-2000.
- Funding to visual arts comprises 15% of Canada Council funding to the arts, placing the discipline mid-range in terms of funding allocations (see Table 1).
- Funding to visual arts organizations and artists is widely dispersed across the country in 190 different cities and communities (see Table 2). However, a large percentage of funding is concentrated in larger centres featuring prominent galleries and museums, as well as strong visual arts communities. For example, both Montréal and Toronto visual artists and visual arts organizations received over $2 million in Canada Council funding, while Vancouver was awarded $1.5 million in funding.

² WME Consulting Associates prepared a report for the Canada Council in March 2000 examining the impact of Canada Council individual artist grants on the careers of professional artists. The report is available on the Council's website and upon request.

SOME FACTS ABOUT VISUAL ARTS IN CANADA

- According to the 1996 Census of Canada, there are 1,900 conservators and curators in Canada, and over 13,000 visual artists. Both professions show significant increases in numbers between the last two census years (1991 and 1996), with the number of conservators and curators rising 36%, and the number of visual artists increasing by 17.5%.
- Data from the 1997-98 survey of Public Museums & Art Galleries undertaken by The Council for Business and the Arts³ in Canada reveals that 20 million visits to Canadian galleries and museums of all kinds took place in 1997-98.
- The Canada Council provided $3.3 million in funding in 1997-98 to the public art galleries, museums, artist-run centres and university-affiliated art galleries and museums included in The Council for Business and the Arts in Canada survey.
- Statistics Canada's General Social Survey⁴ provides specific data on the number of visits to public art galleries and art museums as a subset of the general 'galleries and museums' category. In 1998, 5.3 million Canadians (22% of the Canadian population) visited a public art gallery or art museum, accounting for an increase of 2.8% in the participation rate for this cultural activity between 1992-1998.

AIDE AUX ARTS VISUELS, 1999-2000

- En 1999-2000, le Conseil des Arts du Canada a accordé aux arts visuels du Canada des subventions d'une valeur globale de 15 millions de dollars.
- Le Conseil a attribué 4,9 millions de dollars aux artistes en arts visuels et 10,2 millions de dollars aux organismes d'arts visuels. Des subventions de programmation et de fonctionnement d'une valeur totale de 5,9 millions de dollars ont été accordées à 81 musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif, tandis que 81 centres d'artistes autogérés ont reçu en tout 2,1 millions de dollars pour leur fonctionnement.
- Dans l'ensemble, le Conseil des Arts du Canada a soutenu 310 organismes d'arts visuels en 1999-2000, y compris des musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif, des centres d'artistes autogérés, des collectifs et associations, et des galeries d'art et programmes d'arts visuels d'universités.
- Le Conseil a maintenu son aide aux artistes en arts visuels professionnels; il en a subventionné 619 en 1999-2000 (comparativement à 632 en 1998-1999). Toujours en 1999-2000, le pourcentage des demandes acceptées se chiffre à 28 p. 100, un taux de réussite identique à la moyenne de l'année précédente dans les cinq champs d'action largement subventionnés par le Conseil, soit : interdisciplinarité, arts médiatiques, musique, arts visuels, et lettres et édition⁵.
- Selon une récente étude menée pour le Conseil⁶, en 1998-1999, le pourcentage des demandes présentées par les artistes et qui ont été acceptées par le Conseil s'est accru pour la première fois depuis nombre d'années, grâce à l'argent neuf reçu par le Conseil. En 1992-1993, le taux s'établissait à 20 p. 100 ; il est passé à 27 p. 100 en 1998-1999 et a grimpé à 34 p. 100 en 1999-2000.
- L'aide aux arts visuels représente 15 p. 100 de l'aide du Conseil des Arts du Canada aux arts, ce qui place cette discipline au milieu de l'échelle des subventions accordées (voir Tableau 1).
- L'aide aux organismes et artistes en arts visuels est largement dispersée dans tout le pays entre 190 villes et collectivités (voir Tableau 2). Toutefois, un pourcentage élevé de cette aide se concentre dans les grandes villes dotées d'importants musées et galeries d'art et dans les communautés où les arts visuels occupent une place importante. Par exemple, les artistes et organismes d'art visuels à Montréal et Toronto ont reçu plus de 2 millions de dollars et Vancouver a obtenu 1,5 million de dollars pour les arts visuels.

QUELQUES FAITS SUR LES ARTS VISUELS AU CANADA

- Selon le recensement du Canada de 1996, le Canada compte 1 900 conservateurs et plus de 13 000 artistes en arts visuels. Le nombre des membres de ces deux professions a augmenté de façon marquée entre les deux derniers recensements (1991 et 1996), celui des conservateurs de 36 p.100 et celui des artistes en arts visuels de 17,5 p. 100.
- Les données du sondage effectué par le Conseil pour le monde des affaires et des arts du Canada⁷ auprès des musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif en 1997-1998 révèlent que 20 millions de personnes ont visité les musées et galeries d'art de tous genres au Canada en 1997-1998. Les musées ont accueilli deux fois plus de visiteurs que les galeries.
- En 1997-1998, le Conseil des Arts a versé 3,3 millions de dollars aux musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif, aux centres d'artistes autogérés et aux musées et galeries d'art d'universités inclus dans le sondage du Conseil pour le monde des affaires et des arts du Canada.
- L'Enquête sociale générale de Statistique Canada⁸ fournit des données sur le nombre de visiteurs dans les musées et galeries d'art à but non lucratif dans une sous-catégorie de la catégorie générale des musées et galeries. On y apprend ainsi qu'en 1998, 5,3 millions de Canadiens (22% de la population) ont visité un musée ou une galerie d'art à but non lucratif, ce qui représente une hausse de 2,8 p. 100 du taux de participation à cette activité culturelle entre 1992 et 1998.
