2.0 Statistical highlights about the arts in Prince Edward Island⁴

- Prince Edward Islanders spent $94 million on cultural goods and services in 2005, which equals 3.4% of total consumer spending in the province. The $94 million in consumer spending on culture is three times higher than the $30 million spent on culture in PEI by all levels of government in 2003-04. On a per capita basis, Islanders' cultural spending ranks seventh among the provinces at $712 per resident.
- In 2005, the three most popular cultural and heritage activities in Prince Edward Island were: reading newspapers (92% of the population 15 or older); listening to music on CD's, cassette tapes, DVD audio discs, records, etc. (80%); and reading a magazine (77%).
- In 2005, 36% of Prince Edward Islanders 15 or older (40,000 residents) attended a concert or performance by professional artists of music, dance, theatre or opera (excluding cultural festivals). This is less than the Canadian rate of 41%.

Examples of Canada Council funding in Prince Edward Island⁵

The Canada Council supports the endeavours of professional artists and arts organizations through its programs. The following selection illustrates the scope of the activities supported by the Canada Council in Prince Edward Island.

Charlottetown's Groupe Chuck et Albert conducted its first tour of British Columbia and Alberta from January 13 to 18, 2008, with a Music Touring Grant of $7,800. Performers Chuck and Albert Arsenault borrow music from the Acadian repertoire and add their own original instrumental and vocal compositions, dance choreographies and sketch comedy to celebrate the day-to-day experiences of their Acadian heritage. The duo offered three versions of their show – French, English and bilingual – and performed 11 interactive school shows and seven evening performances. All theatres expressed an interest in Chuck and Albert's return in 2009-10 when a new show and a full-length album are scheduled to be released.

First-time grant applicant and recipient Two Hours Traffic received a Music Festival Travel Grant of $2,500 to present at the Northern Lights Festival Boréal, in Sudbury, Ontario, on July 4 and 5, 2008. Having already garnered a Prince Edward Island Music Award, an East Coast Music Award and the #1 position on CBC Radio 3's album chart for their 2007 album Little Jabs, the Charlottetown indie band plans to perform at the festival to expose its music to a new audience and to obtain future opportunities in the festival circuit across Canada. Two Hours Traffic's repertoire is 100% original and their producer, manager and record label are all Canadian.

Through the Grants to Professional Writers - Creative Writing program, J.J. Steinfeld of Charlottetown was awarded $20,000 to work on a collection of short stories from April 2008 to January 2009. During this time, Steinfeld will be writing and compiling a collection to complement his existing body of work. Steinfeld writes: “my stories will focus on the themes that capture my imagination and engage my passions: the influence of the past and memory on the present; how the turmoil and struggle of existence stir some people to rage while paralyzing others; the significance of love, creativity and madness in the lives of individuals as they attempt to deal with the not always hospitable world around them.” Steinfeld is the recipient of the 2003 Award for Distinguished Contribution to the Literary Arts of Prince Edward Island.

Judith Scherer of Mount Stewart attended a residency at Gros Morne National Park, Newfoundland from August 27 to September 16, 2007, with a $1,500 grant through the Inter-Arts Program: Travel Grants to Professional Artists. Exploring the theme of “movement/sound as a disturbance, a dissonance and a mending,” Scherer developed Tread Lightly. The project combines photographed, filmed and live dance performances within the striking landscape of the park with a dramatic electro-acoustic composition. Scherer showed a video presentation on her work at the park’s interpretive centre and for grades three, four and nine at the Woody Point School. She also incorporated the project as an installation in her March 2008 solo exhibition at the Confederation Centre Art Gallery in Charlottetown.

Deirdre Kessler of Charlottetown was awarded $2,500 through the Travel Grants to Professional Writers program to participate in a four-week residency at the Tasmanian Writers' Centre in Hobart, Australia, in October 2007. As part of the Island-to-Island Writer’s Exchange between Tasmania and PEI, Kessler spent the month working on her new novel, Billy McDonough’s Hornpipe. She also participated in the Tasmanian Poetry Festival, conducted workshops and panels in Hobart, Melbourne and Darwin and arranged a meeting at the Consulate General of Canada in Sydney to discuss a long-term writers’ connection between PEI and Tasmania.

In 2007-08, Charlottetown’s Island Media Arts Cooperative (IMAC) received a total of $38,600 in Media Arts Projects Grants. IMAC is a non-profit organization seeking to establish a vital media arts culture in PEI by providing talent, resources and equipment to artists, and organizing events and special projects. IMAC received one project grant for The Masterclass Series, a pilot program providing emerging artists with intensive mentoring workshops by accomplished Canadian filmmakers. The Canada Council also supported Remote Control Symposium – into the Future, a symposium bringing together Atlantic Canadian media artists and representatives to explore new media dissemination.

Karem Simon of Charlottetown was awarded $9,000 through the Grants to Professional Musicians (Individuals) - Classical Music of all World Cultures program to study with internationally renowned clarinetist Robert Spring in Arizona from January to May 2008. Regular sessions with Spring, the principal clarinet instructor at Arizona State University, allowed Simon to develop a facility in contemporary techniques of clarinet performance, techniques required for a growing number of newly composed works. According to Simon, this will enable him to reach a new level of playing in his career, afford him performing opportunities in Prince Edward Island and elsewhere, and increase his demand as a clarinet teacher.

A Literary Readings and Festivals grant of $2,323 was awarded to the Service des bibliothèques publiques de l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard of Summerside to support the PEI tour of Quebec author, Josée Ouimet, in July 2007. Ouimet, author of 21 children's and young adult books in French, visited six schools and libraries across the province, allowing children and adolescents to become more familiar with her work and ask questions about her career as a writer. The goal of these sessions was to promote the works of the author for Francophone and Anglophone audiences, to showcase the French language resources in provincial libraries and to promote reading in French.
