2.0 Statistical highlights about the arts in Quebec⁴

- Quebec's 27,600 artists represent 0.7% of the provincial labour force.
- Montreal has an artistic concentration (1.9%) that is more than double the Canadian average of 0.8%, ranking the city third among large Canadian cities. Verdun (1.3%), Quebec City (1.0%) and Sainte-Foy (0.9%) also have an artistic concentration that is above the Canadian average.
- 36% of the province's artists reside in Montreal, compared with 14% of the province's overall labour force. In terms of the absolute number of artists, the City of Montreal (10,100) is second in Canada, behind the City of Toronto (21,000) and ahead of the City of Vancouver (7,300).
- There was very significant growth in the arts in many large Quebec cities between 1991 and 2001, including LaSalle (47%), Verdun (33%), Saint-Hubert (30%), Beauport (25%) and Laval (25%).
- Among large Quebec cities, artists' average earnings are highest in Montreal ($26,200, the tenth-highest level in Canada) and in Longueuil ($26,100, the 11th-highest level in Canada).
- Montreal artists have the lowest earnings gap relative to all local workers among large Canadian cities (7%). The earnings gap is 14% in Longueuil, tied for the third-lowest level in Canada.
- Quebecers spent a total of $5.1 billion on cultural goods and services in 2005, or 2.9% of total consumer spending in the province, the lowest such percentage of all Canadian provinces. The $5.1 billion in consumer spending on culture is more than double the $2.3 billion spent on culture in Quebec by all levels of government in 2003/04. This is the lowest consumer-to-government spending ratio of all the provinces. On a per capita basis. Quebecers' cultural spending ranks ninth in the country at $706 per resident.
- In 2005, the three most popular cultural and heritage activities in Quebec were: listening to music on CD's, cassette tapes, DVD audio discs, records, etc. (87% of the population 15 or older); reading newspapers (85%); and reading a magazine (75%).

Examples of Canada Council funding in Quebec⁵

The Canada Council supports the endeavours of professional artists and arts organizations through its programs. The following selection illustrates the scope of the activities supported by the Canada Council in Quebec.

Montreal art critic and freelance journalist Nicolas Mavrikakis traveled to Kassel, Germany to attend Documenta from June 30 to July 3, 2007, with a $1,500 grant awarded through the Visual Arts section's Travel Grants to Professional Artists program. Documenta, the "Museum of 100 Days," is one of the world's most important contemporary art exhibitions and has taken place every five years since 1955. Mavrikakis covered the event for Montreal's Voir newspaper and included a critique of the works presented by Annie Pootoogook of Cape Dorset, Nunavut and by Toronto's Luis Jacob. Mavrikakis's participation in Documenta allowed him to publicize the works of Canadian artists abroad and maintain his professional knowledge of the international artistic scene.

Montreal's International Festival of Films on Art (FIFA) received an Annual Assistance to Media Arts Festivals grant of $24,000 to support the 2009 festival. FIFA is a ten-day art film festival aiming to increase public awareness, knowledge and appreciation of the arts by promoting works by artists and professionals from the fields of film, television and video. It is the largest festival of its kind in the world. FIFA 2009 will run from March 12 to 22, and will include more Canadian works, thus showcasing Canadian talent to Canadian and international markets.

Through the Spoken Word and Storytelling Program, the Corporation Maison Louis-Honoré-Fréchette de Lévis received $6,000 to support the 2007 Festival international du conte Jos Violon in Lévis. The festival aims to celebrate literary and musical works and the local heritage of Lévis, as the birthplace of French-Canadian poet, politician, playwright and short story writer Louis-Honoré Fréchette. Fréchette is known as one of Quebec's best story-tellers for authoring Les Contes de Jos Violon. The 2007 festival ran from October 18 to 31 and featured 27 storytelling activities at the birth house of Fréchette and at various locations throughout the city.

⁵ Unless otherwise indicated, project descriptions and quotations are drawn from documents in the grant application.

Le Théâtre des Confettis, a Québec City children's theatre company, was awarded $25,000 through the Theatre Touring and Special Initiatives Program to tour its production of Wigwam. Inspired by North American Aboriginal myths and legends, Wigwam tells the story of Nanabush, a young girl who, despite her fears, is determined to care for her family's wigwam to prove she is old enough to join her brother and sister on a hunting trip. Wigwam was performed 26 times in both French and English in Calgary and St. Albert, Alberta and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

Le Mois de la Photo à Montreal received $3,000 from the Visual Arts section's Visiting Foreign Artists Program to invite Chinese artists Shao Yinong and Muchen to participate in its international biennale from September 4 to 12, 2007. Le Mois de la Photo à Montreal investigates issues relating to contemporary photography by bringing together artists, curators and specialists for a week of themed exhibitions throughout the city. The 2007 theme was Relaying Narratives. Shao Yinong and Muchen were invited since their collaborative work questions official narratives and explores historical, cultural and political change in China. The artists gave a presentation on their work, which was exhibited for a week at la Maison de la Culture Côte-des-Neiges.

Montreal indie band The Winks was awarded a $15,000 Music Touring Grant to perform across Canada in October and November 2007. Band leaders Todd Macdonald and Tyr Jami mix their classical training with folk, jazz, pop, improv, storytelling, chamber music and instrumental music. The band also incorporates varied art forms into its performances, including tap dancing, poetry, costumes, projections and theatrics. The Winks strongly support all-age events to allow young audiences to participate in their concerts and they encourage young musicians by offering them opening spots and advice. Tour venues ranged from bars, to community halls, skate parks, houses, shopping malls, cafés and art spaces.

Tobie Miller of Montreal-West was the recipient of the 2007 J.B.C. Watkins Award in music. This $5,000 fellowship is awarded to professional Canadian artists in music, theatre or architecture who are pursuing graduate studies outside of Canada. A graduate of McGill University's music program, Miller completed her final year of graduate work in advanced medieval recorder, hurdy gurdy and voice at the Schola Cantorum Basiliensis in Basel, Switzerland from October 2007 to July 2008. Miller is a top Canadian specialist in both medieval recorder and hurdy gurdy and the Schola Cantorum Basiliensis is the only school devoted entirely to early music. The school offered the resources necessary for Miller to continue developing her skills in historical techniques and performance practices.

Performance and installation artist Julie Andrée Tremblay of Petit-Saguenay received $1,000 through the Inter-Arts Program: Travel Grants to Professional Artists to present Rouge, in Amsterdam, Netherlands and Isede, Germany in November 2007. Rouge works with rhythm, movement and form to transform the room into an installation and the body into a sculpture. Tremblay bites a red fruit and asks "What colour is it? Red." This question is repeated as she spontaneously accumulates new objects and develops actions. According to Tremblay, the Amsterdam and the Isede performances were well attended, elicited positive reactions and broadened viewers' notions of performance art. While in Germany, Tremblay also participated in a conference at Hildesheim High School and a conference and workshop at the University of Hildesheim.

In 2007-08, one prize and six grants totalling $114,700 were awarded to the Association pour la création et la recherche électroacoustiques du Québec (ACREQ) of Montreal. ACREQ promotes Canadian digital artists locally and internationally through Elektra, a digital arts festival. For the 2007 festival, ACREQ hosted its first International Digital Arts Market and, with $10,000 from the Audience and Market Development Travel Grants Program: International, it covered the travel costs of international experts and artists in digital arts production, dissemination and direction to participate in presentations and networking sessions at the fair. This solidified relationships and helped position Elektra as an internationally-known digital arts event.

Through the Grants to Dance Professionals: Emerging/Mid-Career program, $6,000 was awarded to first-time recipient, flamenco dancer Christina Tremblay of Chicoutimi. From August 24 to September 8, 2007 she undertook intensive training in Seville, Spain. The first week was spent at the Ados Flamencos school with Isabel Bayon and Angel Atienza studying buleria and tango technique and style. During the second week, Tremblay worked with Lourdes Recio and Felipe Mato at the Taller Flamenco school, as well as Juan Polvillo of the Juan Polvillo school, and practiced modern techniques in taranto and siguiriya. Tremblay, who recently opened her own flamenco school, feels the experience of studying with internationally-renowned teachers in Spain has not only increased her skills and creativity, but it has given her more credibility as an artist within her community.

Théâtre Pupulus Mordicus, a Quebec City marionette theatre company, was awarded $9,000 through the Theatre Production Project Grants: Established Artists' Development/Production program for the Laboratoire Gainsbourg project in May 2007. Over five days, the company's creative team, consisting of five musicians, three marionettists, two scenographers, two directors and one dramatic advisor, developed and tested elements for a new production that pays homage to the life and works of French poet, singer-songwriter and actor Serge Gainsbourg. Through this creative process, they conceptualized several theatrical scenes incorporating his jazz music and dramatized his lyrics and elements of his personal life.

Through the Aboriginal Arts Office's Artists and Community Collaboration Program (ACCP), Aimititau! Parlons-Nous!, a Montreal writers collective, received its first grant of $20,000 to produce a book of literary correspondence. Members of the collective – 12 Quebec writers and 14 Aboriginal writers – exchanged texts and inspired musings in the literary genre of their choice, from letters and poems to diary excerpts and notes. The project aimed to stimulate creativity and to erase cultural boundaries through the human dimension of encounters and the shared love of words. The collection of these texts entitled Aimititau! Parlons-Nous! was published in March 2008.

Uma Sundararajan of Greenfield Park received $2,000 through the Travel Grants to Dance Professionals program to perform at the Festival of Music and Dance on March 1, 2008 in New Delhi, India. The festival was presented by Bharata Natya Niketan, a training institution for South Indian Bharata Natyam music and dance, and invited professional guest artists from India and abroad to participate in lectures, training sessions and performances. Sundararajan, who has been performing and teaching advanced Bharata Natyam dance for 25 years, likes to “weave new designs” into the dance, while keeping it “clothed in all its traditional finery.” According to Sundararajan, being invited to perform at this festival was an honour and an enriching opportunity to work with other eminent Bharata Natyam artists.

In 2007-08, Federico Hidalgo of Montreal was the recipient of a $60,000 Grant to Film and Video Artists to produce a feature-length film entitled New Tricks. The film will explore issues of culture, identity and family by documenting the learning processes of two subjects, Santiago and Hai-Hen. Santiago, a man of Argentine descent, will participate in a 10-week salsa dance course while Hai-Hen, a seven year old Chinese boy, will study French. Both children of immigrants to Montreal, Santiago and Hai-Hen seek greater participation in a cultural community. For Santiago, it is to connect to his family's past, and for Hai-Hen, it is to decrease his social isolation in the future. Hidalgo aims to "express the hope that learning to communicate, in a variety of ways, is an accessible antidote to social and personal isolation."

In 2007, Quebec City theatre company, Les Nuages en pantalon was the recipient of a $10,000 Theatre for Young Audiences Prize for the outstanding merit of its production, Si tu veux être mon amie (If You Could Be My Friend). Mervet Akram Sha'ban, a Palestinian girl living in a refugee camp near Bethlehem, and Galit Fink, an Israeli girl living in Jerusalem, developed a tenuous friendship through letter writing between 1988 and 1991. Despite living only 10 kilometres apart, the 12-year-old girls found themselves on opposite sides of the Arab-Israeli conflict. Based on authentic letters collected by Litsa Boudalika, the journalist who initiated the letter writing, Si tu veux être mon amie, uses movement and imagery to question the place of adolescents in a greater climate of animosity, while letting the girls speak for themselves.

Through the Integrated Arts Program for Organizations: Artists and Community Collaboration, the Maison des cultures nomades of Outremont received $25,000 to conduct workshops in multidisciplinary creation for young artists from March to August 2008. For this project, young artists from various cultural communities were placed with established artists to create works in song, music, video and performing arts. From these works, the best were selected and incorporated into a performance with Aboriginal youth from remote Quebec communities. The performance took place at the Presence autochtone festival on June 21, National Aboriginal Day. The Maison des cultures nomades was founded by filmmaker Manon Barbeau in 2003 to support intercultural exchange between marginalized youth artists.
